Stephen J. Gauthier, the GFOA's Director of Technical Services Center and author of numerous GFOA publications, including What Everyone Needs to Know About The New Fund Balance and Governmental Accounting, Auditing, and Financial Reporting (GAAFR or the "Blue Book"), will lead this year's program.

How it works

Using simply a Web browser and a media player such as Windows Media Player or Real Player, attendees can view the event in real-time.

Hardware and Operating System configurations

- 200 MHz or faster
- 64 MB RAM minimum/128 MB recommended
- 16 bit sound card
- 65,000 (16 bit) color video display card
- Windows XP/Windows Vista (or)
- Apple Mac OS X 10.4

If you are using older or unsupported versions of Windows, Unix, or Mac operating systems, you may experience difficulty in viewing and/or listening to the event.

Media Players

In order to access the event, you must have one of the following streaming media players and versions installed on your computer:

- Microsoft Windows Player 10 or 11 (Internet Explorer only)
- RealPlayer 10.X (Firefox or Internet Explorer)

Access frequently asked questions on GFOA's Web site.

Internet Browsers

In order to access the event, you must have either Microsoft Internet Explorer 6.0 or later, or Mozilla Firefox 1.5 or later for Windows operating systems. For accessing events via Mac operating systems, you must have Mozilla Firefox 1.5 or later.

To determine the version installed on your computer, complete the following steps:

1. Open the browser.
2. Click the Help menu.
3. Click About.

Internet Connectivity Requirements

- Before you access the event, you should ensure that your browser is configured to stream media. You will need a minimum Internet connection of DSL or better.
- The end user's connection speed will affect the viewer's streaming video quality (buffering).
- Multiple participants from the same location are encouraged to view the presentation together to enhance streaming quality.

Cookies and Java Script

In order to access the event, your computer must have cookies and JavaScript enabled. If your operating system currently does not have cookies or JavaScript enabled, contact your network administrator or reference the help links located on the registration page.
