E-Government: Technology for Performance Budgeting

Wednesday, April 9, 2008 • 2:00 p.m. – 4:00 p.m. EST

IT'S EASY TO PARTICIPATE

The GFOA's Internet training is delivered to attendees via Microsoft's Live Meeting software and InterCall conference calling services.

EQUIPMENT NEEDED

- A computer with a Web browser to view the presentation.
- Touch-tone telephone with a speaker to hear the presentation.

HOW IT WORKS

- Dial-up instructions will be e-mailed to participants two to three days prior to the program date.
- View materials on secure Internet site.
- Ask questions at any time during the course.
- Interactive exercises to test your mastery of the material.
- Comprehensive PowerPoint presentation supplied for ready reference.

TARGET AUDIENCE

This training session is designed for finance and budget officials, budget analysts, or budget department managers interested in learning about the latest budget technology offered in the marketplace and how it is utilized by government.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Advances in technology offer great promise for decision makers, specifically, streamlining budget processes, forecasting and scenario analysis, and even budget document production. Shayne Kavanagh, GFOA Senior Manager – Research and Consulting, will provide attendees with recent market research data and provide insight on budget technology consulting engagements. Practitioners who have successfully implemented budget technologies will discuss experiences in their organizations. Additionally, practitioners will describe the selection and implementation processes and recount lessons learned with budget technology software.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Those who successfully complete the seminar should be able to:

- Identify and understand current budgeting technologies offered in the marketplace
- Identify how budgeting technologies are utilized by other jurisdictions
- Properly apply key technology implementation strategies
